

Welcome to Y Seren

Built around 1891, Y Seren started out in life as a country house named Brynderwen, or Oak Hill in English. The house was the residence of the Prosser family, previously of Ty-Gwyn, Llangunnor. Perhaps its most famous occupant was David Prosser, Bishop of St. Davids from 1928 until his death in 1951. Bishop Prosser was notably also Archbishop of Wales from 1944 to 1949.

Today, the building is named Y Seren in honour of the public house that used to be situated less than 100m from our drive. We serve high quality homemade meals, which means your food may take a little longer to be made, but trust us, it's worth the wait!
